

When my son in law told me we could enjoy 5 star vacations with premium brands at a fraction of the retail prices found on the most popular online search engines...I almost dismissed him all together....

Then I thought about the day...

That I got married...

My wife and I had a grand vision of a life filled with travel and family vacations...

Fast forward 30 years...and somehow time had slipped away...

Running our toes through the sand on the beaches of the world...

Experiencing the culture of different nations...

And creating lasting memories with the family...

Was somehow replaced by the monotony of a weekly "date night"....

And the ongoing challenges of life as parents...

The more I reflected the more I felt like I could have done better as a husband and a father...

That's when a feeling overwhelmed me....

How many "do overs" do we get? I thought!...

For 30 years we hadn't experienced the things we had said we would...

Maybe I should put my skepticism aside...and hear him out...

So he opened his computer, and excitedly pulled up a video...

He said in just 15 minutes time...he was going to fundamentally change the way I looked at vacationing in general...

That day he opened my eyes to a way of booking travel the likes of which I (and most other people) didn't know existed...

It's NOT your typical online search engine...

Where you're paying to cover huge advertising costs and expensive celebrity endorsements...

It's NOT an overpriced time share program...

Where you shell out large sums of money only to continue paying annual dues and never see a return...

It's NOT a traditional travel agent...

Where the prices have to cover commissions and the other expenses of a brick and mortar business...

THIS....was different...

It was true access to wholesale travel...like I'd never seen it before....

Right after I finished the short video ...

My son in law showed me other people just like my wife and I...

Who went from grinding it out as parents and full time employees to FINALLY...getting away on vacation...

And even those who were checking extraordinary things off their bucket lists thanks to the incredible pricing this insider travel option was able to provide....

I immediately put it to the test, and booked a long overdue trip to see family...'

We started at home in Japan, headed to the Philippines, and finished in the States...

For years...a long over due trip like this would break the bank...

And in turn I'd be stressed instead of enjoying family like I should...

But thanks entirely to my son in law showing video and exposing me to a new world of vacation...

In finally got to sit back and enjoy the experience with my family....

It got me so excited that we literally just booked another trip to Singapore....

This time just me and the wifey...

Truth be told...it feels pretty amazing as a husband to hear her excitedly talk about our upcoming trip on a daily basis...

Now I'm not sure how you book your travel...

I'm not sure what you pay....

However I AM sure that I now have access to travel deals that no one I know personally know has ever had access to before...

Even more exciting is the fact that in efforts to expand the reach of this amazing vacation program...

And increase their buying power, which plays a big role in offering luxury brands and wholesale pricing (I'll explain further if we connect)....

The company has offered a bit of a vacation incentive for spreading the word...

Hence that's what I intend to do...

So if you're a bit overworked...

Under traveled...

Of would just like to see some better deals on the vacations you're already taking...

I'd love to share the exact same video that changed everything for me.....

No strings, no commitment....just a simple convo, and a short vid...

All you have to do is like this post and comment "Video please" below...

And I'll personally message you to connect...

I'm hopeful that my story inspired you a little bit...

And that I get the opportunity to help a few people remember what my son in law helped me remember...

We don't get infinite "do overs"...life is meant to be experienced beyond the everyday routine...

I'm certainly thankful to have a rejuvenated opportunity to do so!

I'll keep an eye out for comments, and I look forward to connecting!
